DakotaPro.biz announces new E-mail solution

DakotaPro.biz announces the implementation of a new premium E-mail solution for all its customers.

The new solution begins with state-of-the-art E-mail filtering. Not only is the solution a major upgrade to the last offering, it is highly scalable. In the face of a Spam outbreak or attack, the system is designed to handle the load – whatever that may be. The mail server itself is also redundant, meaning that a major source of downtime has been eliminated.

“The continuing escalation of Spam has caused us to completely re-engineer our E-mail platform. Our customers have said that E-mail is still the “killer app” on the Internet – and a critical business tool. In fact, most businesses say their business processes are seriously degraded if they cannot access E-mail for even a short time. Our new system consistently delivers.” said Chris Phillips, VP of Sales & Marketing for DakotaPro.biz.

DakotaPro.biz is the commercial division of Dakota Internet Partners, Inc, Southern Arizona’s largest locally owned Internet Solutions Provider. Dakota has one of the most advanced networks and server collocation facilities in Southern Arizona. We provide a wide range of broadband services and data solutions to both business and residential customers.
